

I GIVE UP... is code word for... I'm waiting for divine inspiration
before I make my next move...

- What is troubling you... what are you over-thinking? What is hard... a struggle?

- How does it impact you? How does it make you feel?

- How could you accept it... and GIVE UP? What would it look to create some distance or space from it?

- Now... change your focus... what could you do to bring more joy and happiness into your life?

- As you change your focus... and give up the struggle... how are you divinely inspired?
